

LITTLE LAKE

HOTEL AND RESORT

LITTLE LAKE, 166 miles north of Los Angeles and 103 miles south of Bishop has been recognized for many years as "The Gateway to the Eastern High Sierra."

TO SAY the least, Little Lake is an excellent starting place for hunting and fishing trips and lures many hundreds of sportsmen each year with the many fine pack trips which originate in this area.

Golden trout of the High Sierra is one of the most sought after of all the finney tribe.

Little Lake is also noted for the excellent hunting for which this delightful area serves as a starting point. There are plenty of deer back in the hills, while during the fall season ducks and geese are plentiful. Little Lake is also a favorite area for bass fishing and other sports.

Little Lake is not just a hotel and resort, but a community to serve your every need to make your visit pleasant. One can spend days and weeks visiting the many historic points of interest to be found in Little Lake.

HERE, RECENT excavation by Southwest Museum has brought to light some of the earliest civilization known to mankind. For an archaeologist and the lover of Indian lore it must be remembered that this was one of the early Indian battle grounds; first between various tribes of Indians who sought the hot waters of the Casa Hat Springs and afterwards the battles between the Indians and whites for possession of those same hot springs and the Casa gold fields which were worked by the Mexicans as early as 1884.

Little Lake always has been famed for its warm hospitality and for the excellent meals of its cafe. It is truly one resort where you may "come as you are" and feel sure that the doorway of hospitality swings wide to welcome you. Rates for hotel accommodations and meals are always reasonable and the service is of the best.
