

Bob White Expands Flight Activities

Bob White announced this week that he had expanded his Death Valley air activities to include Stove Pipe Wells Hotel where a recently improved airstrip is attracting many private flyers.

White's main base of activities will remain at the Lone Pine airport, but during the balance of the winter desert season he reported plans to spend considerable time at Stove Pipe where he is leaving one of his planes.