

Tom's Place Lodge Nears Completion

The new lodge at Tom's Place, which is now under construction by R. J. Goulet Co. of Bishop, will be completed and ready for occupancy by mid-April, Goulet announced this week. The modern all-wood building will conform with Inyo National Forest design.

Known as the "fisherman's resort," Tom's Place is one of the most popular crossroads for residents and tourists alike, and services the Rock Creek, Gorge, and back county area.

The original lodge and cabins burned in an early morning fire on Dec. 30. Tom's Place is owned by Ted Berner and George Holmes.
